COLUMBIA, ADAIR COUNTY, KENTUCKY, WEDNESDAY OCTOBER 19, 1910.

NUMBER 50

Automobile destroyed by Fire.

Fire alarm was sounded from the residence of Mr. Geo. O. Bassett last Thursday afternoon about 5:30, and a large crowd of men and boys immediately started to the scene. On the way they learned that Mr. Bassett's automobile house was on fire, the machine being in the building. By the time assistance reached the location the fire was in such headway it could not be extinguished, and the building and automobile were soon in ashes. Mr. Bassett had just arrived from Campbellville in the machine, and it had not been in the house more than thirty minutes until the fire was discovered. It is believed that gasoline spilling a leak which started the blaze.

The machine was secondhand, but a good one, and was valued by the owner at $1,000, insurance $400. The barn that was burned was the property of Judge T. A. Murrell.

Listen, Farmers.

Did you know the most valuable thing on your farm was the manure you produce. The only way to handle it is with a manure spreader. I sell the best makes on the market. Call or write me at Columbia, Ky. Hugh M. Noe

Married.

Rev. W. T. Salmon, pastor of the Presbyterian church, Blanket, Texas, and Miss Eva Cowan, a highly accomplished young lady of Waverly, Tenn., were married at the home of the bride last Wednesday, and at this time are spending a few days with the parents of the groom, this county, before going to Texas. The groom was partly reared near Columbia, and he stands high as a minister in the Presbyterian Church. He was on our streets last Thursday receiving congratulations of friends.

Jamestown.

There is one thing very noticeable about the Capital of Russell. It is not as large as some of her neighboring towns, but it is a place where peace reigns supreme. Its inhabitants remind so-journer of one big family. Every body is on equality and it is a fine thing to see. There were not but one meal chest and one flour bin in the town, they owned by one person, every body in the community would go to them and receive their food as bread stuff laid. Style has never run any body crazy in Jamestown. Her people prefer good, comfortable clothes, money to glunge in their pockets, to fine raiment. Why a lady in Jamestown would not think of wearing a thirty dollar hat, though there are plenty who could afford to do so if they did not think the money could be more judiciously expended.

The people not only in Jamestown, but throughout Russell county, are prosperous, though it seems they are so unpretentious that they make an effort to try and keep the outside world from knowing how contentedly they are getting along.

Monday was the opening of circuit court and all sections of the county were represented—the well-to-do man and the poor man were in town, and the writer ventures the assertion that there was not one person in the entire crowd but had some money in his pocket, consequently the business men of the town enjoyed a fine trade.

I have a set of rubber tire buggy wheels which I will sell at cost.

S. F. Eubank.

Mr. Lee A. Akin, son of Mr. George R. Akin, this county, who lives in Blaine county, Okla., was recently nominated for Sheriff by the Republicans of said county, and it is believed that he will be elected. Mr. Akin is a high gentleman and has made many warm friends since he became a citizen of this county. Being from Adair county, Ky., is sufficient evidence that he would make a most efficient or a good anything else he should undertake.

Mr. D. H. Butler orders his paper changed from Owensboro, Ky., to Dallas, Texas. He states that himself and Mrs. Butler left for Texas Friday. He did not say that he would locate in that city.

There will be a very important tobacco meeting held in Columbia next Saturday afternoon. It will be a meeting that every business man and farmer in the county should take an interest in.

Prof. W. M. Wilson and wife have removed from Bonar Heights and are occupying the residence near the Graded School building, vacated last week by Mr. W. E. Bradshaw and wife.

Jones-Bradshaw.

Last Saturday afternoon Mr. Leonard Jones, of Cammer, Hart county, and Miss Hattie Bradshaw, a popular teacher of Adair county, drove into Columbia to the residence of Rev. B. M. Currie, who, in a very impressive ceremony, united them in marriage. The groom is a son of Mr. W. H. Jones, who, a number of years ago, was a citizen of this place, and who is well-known in Columbia where he has many warm friends. The bride is a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ad Bradshaw and is a popular and very deserving young lady. For the present the couple will reside in Adair county, as the bride is teaching in the Fairplay school.

Revs. Frank Turner, C. R. Dean, J. M. Turner and Delegate Oliver Hadley attended the Union Brethren Conference at Reynolds, Hancock county, Mo. was an interesting Conference, many favorable reports read, showing that the Church was growing in boundary of the Conference. Bishop Mathew, of Chicago, Ill., was present and presided over the deliberations. A number of able sermons were delivered. The next Conference will be held at Mt. Pleasant, Adair county, near Breeding.

Rev. J. A. Johnston, who was sent to Mannville, Taylor county, by the last Conference, will remove his family to that place in a few weeks. He will either sell or rent his property here.

Considering the Matter.

Mr. Garnett Breeding, who is engaged in the lumber business, headquarters at Amandaville, Cumberland county, has just returned from the Illinois State Fair which was held at Springfield. Mr. Breeding has been thinking for several years of running an automobile line between Columbia and Campbellville, and while on this trip he visited Chicago, and other large cities and made his intentions known to automobile manufacturers. He gave them a complete description of the route between the two towns, and also told them of the failure in the past to get a machine to stand the road. The automobile people took in the situation and informed him they could furnish a machine that would be a success. Mr. Breeding is seriously considering the matter, and if he is furnished with a satisfactory guarantee, he will put a machine on the road. He is now in correspondence with the company, and a definite statement will be made later.

A Gift.

As I came in and opened the door There stood a fair maid with eyes of blue; And a handsome youth with eyes of darkest hue.

"We brought these flowers, I think, They are prettier than golden rod."

They are quite pretty I am sure, But why we prize the golden rod so, It is the emblem of our beautiful land, America!

This lovely maid and dark eyed youth, May each day be replete,

With loving words and kindly deeds That will make their lives complete.

Long may sunshine o'er them linger, Bright as that around them now!

E're the touch of sorrow's finger Leaves its impress on the brow.

-Nellie Bly.

To My Friends.

My stay in Columbia for the past two years has been a pleasant one. The people have proven themselves my friends. I have enjoyed their friendship and kindness and I hope for them the best of everything in the future. I leave with you my best regards and kindest feelings and shall continue to think of you as my friends.

There are many whose names are too numerous to mention, that have shown me and my family no little kindness. May our Father's blessings be upon us all and may we be true to Him whose I am and whom I serve.

R. L. Tally.

Ladies and childrens cloaks at Sinclair's.

Basket ball.

Two very interesting games of Basket Ball were played in Lindsey-Wilson gymnasium Friday night. The first game was played by the girls, the town team which was composed of Misses Huldah McFarland, Ruth Stapp, Mae Upton, Mary Miller and Loretta Dunlap, played the dormitory team composed of Misses Annie Hodges, Alva Knight, Ella Todd, Leontine Leechman and Allie Garnett. The town team were ahead at the close of the first half but the dormitory team gained in the last half and won by four scores. Umpire, Jennie McFarland, Referee Mable Atkins.

In spite of the fact that a strenuous effort has been made in this state against the manufacture and sale of stimulating drink, the Brod Company started its machinery in this town last week to blowing shavings and turning out beer steves in the most improved manner.

Bro. L. B. Arvin, who has been employed as Evangelist for the Russell Creek Association, is now located at Campbellville, having moved to that place last Saturday from Pineville.

At The Columbia Hotel.

Mr. Thos. C. Floyd, of Stanford, and Miss Mary H. Bridgewater, of Cane Valley, this county, were married in the parlors of the Columbia Hotel last Tuesday night, the 11th, Rev. R. L. Tally officiating. The bride is highly respected, a daughter of Mr. P. H. Bridgewater. We understand that the groom is a very deserving gentleman. The couple will reside in Lincoln county.

In the afternoon of the same day Mr. E. T. McCaffree, son of Mr. P. C. McCaffree, and Miss Addie Troutman were married at the home of the bride, three miles west of Columbia. It is a very worthy couple.

I have fifty suits which I will close out at cost. F. L. Wilson, Russell Springs. 49-21

Post Card Verse Displeases P. O.

The Louisville Times of Tuesday, the 11th inst., gives the following account of a trial which came up before Judge Walter Evans:

A curious case growing out of a political feud in Metecale county came up in the United States Court this morning, when R. E. McCandless, a business man of Edinmont, was tried for violating the postal laws.

McCandless was accused by the Government of sending an objectionable postal card to a political rival. The card said:

"Here's to Henry Vanzant, Who made a little trade, And he got everything that Bruce Taylor Had for many days made."

Upon the credit of Taylor and Free, At the seashore hotel did thugs eat; And wound up the Republican party In one h-l of a defeat."

McCandless declared he did not send the card. A number of the same kind were sent through the same post-office. The jury found the accused man not guilty. Judge Evans remarked: "Let him be discharged, with the suggestion that he has been very kindly treated in this case."

Ladies coats suits $7 to $20 at Sinclair's.

Russell Circuit Court.

The opening of circuit court at Jamestown Monday morning brought representative citizens together from all parts of the county, and by the noon hour the square was well-filled with people.

Judge Carter arrived in due time, organized the court and the lawyers settled down to business. The grand jury is composed of twelve good men, who will do everything in their power to bring evil doers to justice. The merchants and other business men were busy throughout the day. Judge Carter has about the usual number of cases docketed before him, and will probably get through with the business this week.

Bargain Counter Sale.

We have just received from a New York Manufacturer a large assortment of Ladies New Fall style skirt waists. The line embraces handsomely trimmed and Tailored suits in white, black and colors. We have placed the entire lot on sale at 98 cents each. These are bargains—won't better come—running. Russell & Co.

It Pays.

Some two or three weeks ago and advertisement for a lost dog was placed in The News and last week the pup was delivered sound and alright. He showed that he had suffered a little from his wanderings but his appetite is fine and soon Dr. R. Y. Hindman will have him in shape for the chase. This is the second dog the Doctor lost, the second "ad" placed and the goods delivered both times. It is testimony that an ad in the News brings results, if merits back the proposition.

For Sale:—Farm and timbered land with a small and less of Russell Springs. Fine poplar on part 200 and odd acres near Fairplay, Adair county. 2 dwelling houses and lots in Columbia Graded School District. Apply to H. C. or Herschel T. Baker, Columbia, Ky. 49-41

Hamilton-Bridgewater.

At the home of the bride's father, A. J. Bridgewater, Edinmont, Ky., Mr. Lucien Hamilton and Miss Ada Bridgewater, Rev. J. R. Crawford officiating. The marriage was a private affair, only the immediate friends of the contracting parties being present and the hour was ten o'clock, Monday Oct. 17. Mr. and Mrs. Hamilton left immediately after the ceremony for their future home in Idaho. Miss Bridgewater was an erstwhile pupil at Lindsey-Wilson and had many friends in Columbia as she was a deservedly popular young lady. Mr. Hamilton, formerly of Met. calfe county is well connected, and a prosperous young business man in the West.

Columbia Chapter, No. 7, will meet next Friday evening.

The weather is unusually warm for this season of the year and it is reported that considerable corn has injured in the shock. Many of our farmers are in no hurry about sowing wheat as this kind of weather is inviting to the fly.

Strayed.

From my place in Columbia, a red milk cow, has been dehorned. Will pay for any information. J. O. Grissom.

The Semi-Annual Communion service will be observed at the Presbyterian church on next Sabbath morning. There will be no evening service as the pastor is to begin a revival at the Mt. Carmel church at the hour for the night service.

The regular meeting of Columbia Lodge, No. 230, I. O. O. F. will be next Thursday night. A full attendance is desired.

Commissioner's Sale.

ADAIR CIRCUIT COURT KENTUCKY. Ella Dohney ac Plaintiff.

vs. Betsey Dohney ac Defendant. By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of Adair Circuit Court, rendered at the Sept. Term, thereof, 1910 in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court house door in Columbia Ky., to the highest bidder, at Public Auction, on Monday the 7th day of Nov. 1910, at one o'clock p. m., or thereabout (being County Court) upon the above cause, the following described property, to-wit: A certain tract of land lying in Adair county, Ky., on the waters of Russell Creek, containing about 95 acres. This land will be offered in two lots, divided by the turnpike road. The one on which the dwelling and barn are situated contains 50 acres, the other contains 45 acres, then it will be offered as a whole, and the bid or bids accepted which will realize the most money. The judgment and order of sale are referred to for complete description and boundary.

For the purchase price, the purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute Bond, bearing legal interest from day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a promissory note. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.

W. A. Coffey, Master Commissioner.

Owen Hardesty received at this place, last Wednesday, 2000 fat cattle, from other parties. At an average of $4.00 per cow. The entire lot brought $10,000.

I will pay $2.50 for a buggy rug lost from my barn in Columbia. The rug was a heavy Winter rug, one side red with two lion heads and buttons for eyes, the other side black. This is the only rug of this kind perhaps in the county. S. B. Breeding.

Richard Hadley died at his home at Russell Springs, Monday night, of paralysis. He was about 75 years old and a member of the Christian church. Eld. Z. T. Williams conducted the funeral service this evening (Tuesday) after which the remains were laid to rest in family burying ground.

The biggest line of clothing in Russell county can be found at F. L. Wilson's store, Russell Springs. 49-21

Mr. Jo E. Johnson has received a message from Burley headquarters at Lexington that the 1910 pool was declared off and was signed by J. M. Rankin, Secretary.

Don't half way fix your wheat land if you want a good grade and good yield. Put your ground in first class order and then use sufficient fertilizer and the result will be satisfactory.

Mr. Clint Walker, of Glenfork, fell from the roof of a house last Friday and broke one of his thighs. He is quite an old man but is reported doing unusually well for a man of his age. At least he will be confined for several weeks.

In Loving Remembrance of Dear Grandpa.

Mr. Wm. McFall, who lived at his country home at Lula, passed away on Sunday morning Sept. 25th, 1910. He was 68 years old when the end came.

When the civil war broke out he enlisted in Capt. Wolford's company, and served until peace was declared. His life work is finished and well done.

He leaves a wife, two daughters, five grandchildren, three brothers and one sister, all was at the bedside when the end came except one brother, who is in Missouri. We all loved him as a husband, father, grandfather and friend. He shrunk at no time from following his ideals in peace and in war. He was ever ready with his life and fortune.

The funeral services were conducted by the Masonic Fraternity of which organization he had been a valuable member for a number of years. The interment took place at his old home Monday afternoon, many friends being present.

Dearest Grandpa, thou has left us,
And our loss we deeply feel,
But 'tis God that has bereft us,
He can all our sorrows heal.

Yet again we hope to meet thee,
When the day of life is fled
When in Heaven with joy to greet thee
Where no farewell tears is shed.

His loving granddaughter,
Lola Morrison,
Lula, Ky.

His Romance Spoiled.

Letters from a girl in Philadelphia, who claims she has a prior claim to the affections of John A. Howland, a life saver, of Spring Lake, N. J., have prevented his obtaining the blessing of the Catholic church on his marriage. On Sept. 2, while the mother of Miss Helen O'Brien, an heiress, was out for an automobile ride, the young couple eloped. When the mother returned she took the bride and locked her in a room, later taking her to St. Louis, Mo. Howland followed.

Though their wedding had been performed by a protestant clergyman, Mr. Howland sought the blessing of the Catholic church on the union, in accordance with the wish of his bride. Twice he attempted to obtain this blessing but on each occasion the priest has received a letter from the young woman in Philadelphia.

The young swimmer admits he knows the young woman but denies she has a rightful claim on him. He declares he will go to Philadelphia and see that further trouble is prevented.

A Miracle in Finance.

When Nelson W., spurred by patriotism undertook to give his services to his country by entering the Senate, he was worth about $100,000. That was 29 years ago. Patriotism pays well—sometimes. At any rate, the senator is now worth between $10,000,000 and $15,000,000. Moreover, he has raised a large family in luxury, maintained a steam yacht, and built a country home which requires a small army of men to keep in condition. Small wonder, therefore, that those whose ability as financiers is limited would like to know how it was done. Friends as well as political enemies seek information. Topique himself is anxious to know. But I am afraid that curiosity will not be satisfied. This is likely to remain a mystery as it is a miracle in finance.

Amandaville.

There is not much sickness in this part of the country. Some diphtheria in a few families, but the doctors have it well under control.

Born, to the wife of Mr. Silas Stephenson on the 28th of Sept. a son weighing ten pounds. Mother and child doing well.

William and Finis Baker and Garnett Breeding went to Springfield, Ill., last week to the State Fair.

Judge George Herriford, of Columbia, passed through here one day last week with a drove of fine cattle for the market up the country.

There are some fine crops of Burley tobacco in this vicinity, the most of which has been pooled.

While Orlando Wintrey with a little negro boy about 8 years old was out hunting pawpaws one day last week a large Copperhead snake bit the little boy on the big toe, knocking him down, rendering him senseless in a minute. Sandy having no other remedy present tore a string off his clothes and tied it tightly around the toe and stuck his knife in the end of the toe making a pretty large opening so that it could bleed freely, and in 30 minutes the boy was up and seemed to be entirely relieved and went on smiling and eating more pawpaws.

A. O. Baker has built himself the finest residence in this part of the county. He is now painting and papering it in first-class style.

R. T. Baker has just completed the finest stock barn in this part of the country. It is 60 by 30 feet—three stories high, with a cupola on top and a silo at one corner 12 feet in diameter by 35 feet high, holding 8 acres or 60 tons of feed. Dick has a fine lot of Herriford and Aberdeen Angus cattle that he intends to winter in this barn. This barn looks more like a big city church with a belfry and an observatory to it to the people in this country than a barn.

The greatest revival meeting that was ever held in this part of the country was held last week in the large tent at Holly Grove near Bakerton by the two brothers John and Ernest Roberts and their wives, traveling evangelists, from Pilot Point, Texas. They preached nine days, mornings and nights, had one hundred and eleven conversions and a great many backsliders renewed their allegiance to the Master and most all of the old grudges between neighbors and church members fixed up, and everything is now moving along lovely and everybody seems happy and we trust that it will last. These preachers have been traveling and preaching for the last twelve years and sure go at their work with a vim worthy of the cause. They have traveled a and preached nearly all over the United States and a part of Japan and Africa. They report this as one of the most successful meetings that they have ever held. As an appreciation of their services in this community the people made them up two hundred and twenty-five dollars and asked them to come again at some time in the future.

Bogard, Mo.

Oct 3rd, 1910.

Editor News:—

If you will allow me a little space in your good paper I will write a few lines to our many friends in Adair county.

We left Gradyville, Ky., Dec. 6th, 1909, arrived in Carrollton, Mo., the 8th. Our car came in a few days later, about the 15th. We were located in our new home on the Carrollton and Chillicothe road 8 miles north of Carrollton and 24 miles east of Bogard a beautiful little town on the Chicago Burlington & Quincy railroad. We have R. F. D. here, and our mail is brought to our door every day about 3 o'clock. The Adair County News reaches us Friday and is read with great pleasure; nearly every number brings some sadness as well as a great deal of joy. There has been so many accidents and deaths since we left home. So sorry to hear of Dr. Grissom's illness, hope he will soon be restored to his usual health. I had two or three to say to me, "Willmore, I hear you are home sick" I said, "Yes, and I am glad that I can feel so." I would hate to think that I had left my old home and good people I was raised with and not feel homesick. I said if you had been with us at Cousin Charlie Yates, a night or two before we left home and then at our Dear Bro. Sandidge the last night we spent in Kentucky and heard the good prayers they offered for our future welfare, you wouldn't wonder at us being a little homesick and we know that they with many others of our good friends are still remembering us in their prayers.

I want to say to the good people at home that we have been blessed by being located in another good neighborhood. We have good neighbors and are close to a good school. We have an eight months term of free school beginning with the 1st of September. We have three Sunday schools in reach of us and preaching every Sunday. There are quite a number of Adair county people in Carroll county. Mr. Warfield Wakler, a cousin of Gov. Hindman and an school mate of my fathers, lives in Bogard. I meet with him frequently. When he shake hands with me he makes my teeth chatter.

We attended the Street Fair at Bosworth last week, a beautiful little town 6 mile east of us. I was honored as Judge in several of the saddle and harness rings. Messrs Frank and Jim Cabbell, formerly Adair county boys, were very successful in carrying out the blues. Mrs. Frank Cabbell wore the blue for the best. Lady rider. Quite a number of draft horses were shown. One mare was led on the scales that tipped the beam at 1900.

Well we had a cold winter here. Snow on the ground nearly all winter, but not very deep, consequently the wheat was nearly all frozen out. March was as pleasant as I ever saw I think. There was a large crop of oats sown and a good yield; a fine crop of clover and hay. April and May was so wet that a large portion of the corn was not planted until June, then we had a dry spell in August that hurt the corn some, but it has been seasonable since. So if frost don't come too soon there will be lots of corn made yet. Corn has been selling for 65c per bushel all the year. Lots of hogs are being fed here. Stock hogs are selling from 8 to 10 cts and hard to get at that—every body wants to feed their corn. Wheat is worth from 90c to $1.00 per bushel; oats 30c; timothy hay $10 per ton, clover hay $8. Wheat and oats have all been threshed. The clover hullers are at work now, quite a lot of clover. Seed are worth $7.00 per bushel. Good work hands are in demand here. Harry Shirley, the young man that came with us had a job waiting for him when he got here at $20 per month and board for the first two months and after that $25. Day hands are worth $1.25. Farmers are about through sowing wheat.

Well, I will close by saying we have been wonderfully blessed with good health ever since we landed except our children, all had measles shortly after we came. We had the doctor to call once. Our neighbors were very good to come to see them and bring fruit. Sallie and I would eat the fruit and tell the children how good it was. But after all I can't help but want to be back with the good people I was raised with. You remember shortly after our old friend J. J. Hunter went to Quanah, Texas, he wrote to the News and said, I may possibly be back there on a visit some time, but never will I be back there to live. I can say I don't know as I will ever be back on a visit, but I may possibly be back to live.

My friends, Col. J. N. Coffey and R. W. Shirley told me when we wanted to come back to let them know. So you see we don't have to stay here if we don't want to. But Jim said in the close of his letter, "If I never meet you on earth again I hope to meet you up yonder." I want to say that is my aim too.

Well, I must say we were overjoyed and surprised beyond reason when Bro. Charles Browning and family drove up to our door. I could hardly believe my own eyes when I saw them. I felt for a day or two like I was dreaming. I only wish that they and many more of our good people would surprise us again, or if you will let me know when you will be in Carrollton, I will gladly save you of a lively bill.

Now a word to the Gradyville correspondent, give us a good letter every week and tell us something about every body there. With best wishes to the News and its many readers, I remain,

Yours Truly,
L. M. Wilmore.

Why Cat Falls on Its Feet.

A scientist has constructed an ingenious model to show why a cat in falling invariably alights on its feet. This model, roughly speaking, consists of a cardboard cylinder wherein are stuck four rods to serve for legs, together with a tail devised on similar principles. The object of the experiment is to show that a

Welcome

Henry Neill, of Chicago, had had every lock taken from the doors and windows of his home, and extends a hearty invitation to burglars to visit him at any hour of the day or night. If he is asleep, he begs that they will awaken him, as he firmly believes that what a burglar wants is the right hand of fellowship. Far be it from me to dispute the matter with Mr. Neill, as he is secretary of the National Probation league he probably knows more burglars than I do, and is closer in touch with what they want. I should have thought they cared more for the silverware than for the right hand of fellowship. Moreover, Mr. Neill himself must realize that no man who awakens at 3 a.m. with the glare of a bullseye lantern or an electrical torch dazzling him, is prepared on the instant to shove out the right hand of fellowship. No doubt Mr. Neill wants to help the burglar to a better way of living. That is as it should be. But why not have some kind of hours for this business? Why make it necessary for the servant girl to barricade the door with her trunk, and ask a busy professional who has another crib to crack later to waste valuable time by waking up the head of the family just to enjoy a pumphaning of the right hand of fellowship?

feline's peculiar faculty depends on the rotation of its tail with sufficient vigor. This faculty is specially developed by climbing and leaping animals, such as members of the cat tribe, monkeys, squirrels, rats and most lemurs. As ready stated, the tail plays an important part in the turning process. According to the investigator all tree inhabiting monkeys have long tails, and there is not the slightest doubt that these tails are of great aid to all climbs in enabling them to turn in the air. The tail also serves as a balancer, as evidenced in the case of a squirrel, which may be seen walking along a tightly stretched wire or string, swinging its tail from side to side much after the manner of a tight rope walker balancing himself with a pole.

Stole His Wife Trice.

Twice within a year Harry C. Skimer is alleged to have stolen the wife of Alfred Ellsworth, a resident of Brooklyn, N. Y. The wife of Skimer is a sister of the plaintiff, who seeks $100,000 damages on charge of alienation of the affection of his wife. The case is now before the Supreme court of New York State.

Ellsworth alleges in his complaint that he and his wife were living at Brooklyn, when Shimer induced his wife to leave him. She afterward started divorce proceedings, but the action was discontinued in July, 1909. Thereafter the complainant charges, he and his wife became reconciled and went housekeeping again in Brooklyn.

Ellsworth says he spent $1,500 in fitting up their new apartments, and had just completed the furnishings when Shimer began to call Mrs. Ellsworth on the telephone frequently and arrange to meet her. On May 31 last, it is alleged, Shimer again induced Mrs. Ellsworth to leave her home.

Democratic Ticket

FOR CONGRESS
HON. ELZY BERTRAM
OF CLINTON COUNTY.

The contest between Mr. Bertram and Mr. Powers is one that ought to interest every good citizen in this district. It is one of far reaching influence and will largely determine our moral worth and standing with the people of other States. In fact, to outsiders, the nomination of Powers is considered by Republicans as a tremendous party mistake and by Democrats as a discredit and shame to the district. His election, to say the least that can be said, would not add anything to the credit of his party or to the honor of the people he would represent. It would virtually say to the outside world that character and reputation cut no figure in the political life of the Eleventh Kentucky. It would mean that party passion and prejudice are stronger than love of country and advancement, that the people of this district endorse the bad instead of battling for the good. His nomination was ill advised and came through the channels of bitter political resentment, stirred into action by himself and a few of his ardent friends who are thirsting for power and prominence. In his campaign against Congressman Edwards no reference to his fitness for good service to the district was made, but on the contrary the sole reliance of winning was on arousing political prejudice, resentment and sympathy. Why he should stand so high in the estimation of his partisan friends can not be explained unless they are indifferent to the worth of good reputation. He has never rendered any great service to his party, has never proven any extraordinary ability or fitness in service to the State. He was a victim of circumstances where a strong mind and God fearing man would not have been entangled and like Pratt, Marshall and Burk emerged without the stain of suspicion. He stands to-day twice convicted for an awful crime but he enjoys liberty by Execution clemency. His lecture "Right on The Scaffold and Wrong on The Throne" was exploited for his own political and financial welfare and misled many good Republicans into his support who would not otherwise considered him congressional timber. He was pardoned so stated, to end a strife that had existed since the tragic death of Mr. Goebel but it did not end, for through his appeal to his party he posed as a martyr and secured the nomination. His opponent, Senator Bertram, an upright man of good ability, one who is representing this district in the interest of the entire people. In the last session he stood above party lines and cast his vote on every proposition for what he believed to be right. He was often with the Republicans as with his own party but invariably contending for the right. His election to Congress would be a credit to the district and his service would be, not to faction, but to the well being of the business interests of this great section just in its infancy in the development of its rich resources. It would not mean party for political victory but that no man need seek preferment in the Eleventh whose reputation is not clean. The duty of good citizenship is apparent for soon this matter must be determined.

Col. Roosevelt has no objections to being elevated. His last venture was to go up in an aeroplane.

The population of Louisville is 223,922. The city only gained 19,197 in ten years. The showing was a disappointment.

"Fighting Bob" Evans, in an interview given out in New York stated that war between the United States and Japan was bound to come.

Only nineteen days until the November election. Make up your mind to work and vote for Senator Bertram for Congress. He would be a very creditable Representative.

Not having seen an item from this place lately thought I would come again and give some of the News.

The Teachers Association held at Freedom Oct. 1st was a great success.

The interest in Education seems to be awakening in this county, and I think the time is not far distant when Russell county will be forging to the front in the work of education. The teachers all manifested much interest in the days work. Prof. Barnes of Russell Springs, gave us a very able discussion on sanitation of school houses, as well as various other subjects. Prof. L. O. Phelps, was in our midst and gave us some very able talks on different subjects. Supt. Antle's presence and valuable talks upon various subjects, of education lent zeal to the occasion. Every body seemed to enjoy the day immensely. There was a splendid dinner on the ground and every body ate, drank and made merry.

Some Hints to Farmers.

Jamestown, Ky., Oct. 7, 1910. Editor News:

This country is drifting to hard times as fast as I have ever seen it, many of us having the Western fever. It is a mistaken idea to go West. In five years we could have the people in the New States coming here to make their homes. We have a State famous for growing tobacco, which would bring in more cash than cotton and wheat. We could grass our land and improve it, until it would make 50 bushels of corn to the acre and 1000 pounds of tobacco to the acre, which would bring $100 per acre; and we have all the other advantages over the West. So I insist on the farmers of this State going to work, raising grass and stock and with the crops mentioned we could soon have our bank full of cash and have good times.

I am going to do all in my power for the betterment of my county and help the farmers.

Mont Murray & Co., Defendant.

By virtue of a Judgment and Order of Sale of Adair Circuit Court, rendered at the Sept. Term, thereof, 1910, in the above cause, I shall proceed to offer for sale at the Court-House door in Columbia, Ky., to the highest bidder, at Public Auction, on Monday, the 7th of Nov. 1910, at one o'clock p. m. or thereabout (being County Court) upon credit six months the following property, to-wit: A certain tract of land lying in Adair County, Ky., on Russell Creek, containing about 83 acres, and known as the Henry Murray lands. The Judgment and order of sale are referred to for description and boundary.

For the purchase price, the purchaser with approved surety or securities, must execute Bond, bearing legal interest from day of sale until paid, and having the force and effect of a Judgment. Bidders will be prepared to comply promptly with these terms.
